Tuesday Morning, Jan. 25, 1870. The Golden Opportunity. There probably never was a period in the history of this colony when the vigorous prosecution of certain public works involved such important consequences. It is at all times desirable that reproductive works, works calculated at once to facilitate and promote development and create a market for labor in the colony, should receive attention; and perhaps one of the greatest faults has been the neglect of these. But it is when one feels that the Col ony is on the eve of receiving a large and sudden addition to its population that such subjects acquire peculiar interest, and assume paramount importance. It has ever been the misfortune of British Columbia that its population has been too much absorbed with a single interest and concentrated upon one locality. For years we have seen a single gold-bearing creek enjoying a monopoly of attention, effort and com-merce. The creek was marvellously rich, no doubt; and the attraction was rien, no doubt; and the attraction was, of course, irresistable. It yielded upwards of twenty millions. It proved a source of wealth to many, and of ruin to more. Probably there is no instance on record where so small an area has yielded so large an amount of treasure to such limited and imporfect effort. to such limited and imperfect effort. Nor is that fabulous creek exhausted. What it has done in the past it may do again. There are wellinformed and soientific men who hold the opinion that the richest deposits of the creek system of Cariboo still lie undisturbed; and we have no disposition to dispate the theory But the rich golden stores of British Columbia are not confined to the region of country which takes its name from or country which takes its name from the big deer of the North. Indeed, it now becomes a question whether the richest deposits are there. Even now, creeks which are yet nameless threaten to dispute the palm with William; and there would appear to be no reason for doubting that the talismanic influence of Cariboo will be absorbed in Omineca and Peace. But it should ever be borne and Peace. But it should ever be bone in mind that these deposits, however rich, are not per se a source of wealth to the colony. Nay, they are of doubtful benefit, unless the development of them is made to contribute to the ereation and as made to contribute to the ereation and development of more substantial and enduring interests. As a means of attracting population they are most valuable; but if the working of our gold mines is not made to contribute towards the building up of a rural population the colony can only suffer impoverishment by the operation-be robbed of its rich treasure. For instance, if the miners consume only foreign productions, while consume only foreign production, walled digging out and carrying away our hidden wealth, how can the process be other than impoverishing? Doubtless the trade thus created would give employment to ships, and traders, and carriers, and the like; but all these, being wholly dependent upon the cold. being wholly dependent upon the gold-miner, would disappear with him, and the colony would relapse into its prime. val solitude, only so much the poorer for the development of its gold mines. The early policy which sought so eagerly to promote the development of our gold mines, at a time when almost every article of consumption was imported, was unquestionably a mis-taken one. In California may be found a very practical illustration of what we have been saying. With that we have been saying. With tha country, as with this, gold-mining was a disease; and it was not until that disease abated, and agriculture and other enduring interests commanded a share of attention, that a condition of collective well-being was attained. In truth it may be said that California only became really prosperous when it became ruralized—when gold-mining became ancillary to husbandry. Look at California now. Who would dream of guaging its prosperity by the yield of its auriferons grounds or count of noses of its gold-miners? That State proposes spending twenty million dollars a year for five years, in introducing population. Is it miners and adventurers they intend bringing? No. These come and go of their own mere motion. That large sum is to be employed in obtaining agriculturists. As in California, so here. For years we sent all our treasure away out of the colony to enrich others; and ran the country in debt to obtain the means of building a highway from the seaboard to the gold mines. The miners wor foreign fabrics, worked with foreign implements, consumed foreign productions. Every sack of beans, every flitch of bacon was of foreign growth. But that most fatal condition has, happily, passed away—or, rather, is passing away. Although there is still too much foreign produce consumed in this colony, and although gold mining still claims an undue share of attention, as compared with the pursuit of agriculture, yet it is gratifying to observe the gradual adjustment of interests, as evinced by the decrease in consumption of foreign pro-ductions; and there is reason to hope ductions; and there is reason to hope that the day is not far distant when British Calumbia will become an exporter of those things for the supply of which we have too long depended upon our neighbors. But, to return to the more immediate chiest of the prethe more immediate object of the pre-sent article, it becomes the especial duty of the Government, in view of a large to the country. Communication with the gold fields on our Southern frontier should be opened up, and thus incomers would have an opportunity of seeing the magnificent agricultural country lying south of the Fraser River. A trail should be opened through the con-tre of Vancoucer Island, thereby enabling those agricultural and mineral esources which have hitherto been involved in impenetrable mystery, to be-The wanting link in the arterial highway through the colony ought to be supplied, thus immeasurably increasing agricultural settlement and development in what is now the Queen District of the colony. Let it be observed that these works would not only throw open new avenues for settlement and development, but they would create a market for labor, at the very time when labor will be most needed, and when the employment of it will conduce most largely to permanent results. We must make hay while the sun shines'—the more so because it seldom shines on us. It is only when present that we can hope to direct population into those mere tenacious avenues which promise better results.

No matter how rich Omineca and Peace may prove, we know well from experience that they will not make every devotes rich. A certain percentage there will be in need of other em-ployment; and we should be most solicitous to direct persons coming here in search of gold into those avenues of more assured wellbeing presented in such profusion by this country. To do this is to promote in the highest degree the best interests of the colony and of

The Devil Poet,-A Grave Assertion that Byron had Horns and a Tail.

An entirely new solution of the Byron

An entirely new solution of the Byron mystery is furnished by a writer in the Madras Mail, who says that 'his father had it from one of Lord Byron's most intimate friends.' According to this lively correspondent whose story we find in the Echo—
Lord Byron was in a sense a devil. Incredible as the thing may seem to the thoughtles, the handsomest man in England had a small tail, a pair of rudimentary horns and short, squab feet divided forward from the instep into two parts instead of being furnished with toes. Before he was born his mother had been greatly terrified by seeing when in a very delicate state of health the celebrated picture of Satan Spurned in the gallery at La Haye, and the result had been the fashioning of her child to some extent after the monstrous form the sight of which caused her alarm, and of to some extent after the monstrous form the sight of which caused her alarm, and of which the continuous recollection could not be effaced by any means known to her physicians. At the time of her confinement it was at first suggested that the monstrosity should not be suffered to live, but the child's body as a whole was so perfectly shaped, and its face so wondrously beautiful that the suggestion was at once put aside, and England was not deprived of what was to become in due time one of its what was to become in due time one of ite what was to become in due time one of its chiefest ornaments. Poer lady Byron never recovered wholly from the shock caused by the discovery of what her husband really was; and partly through excess of imagination, partly in consequence of bad advice from persons who shall be nameless, she felt it to be her duty to insist upon her husband subjecting himself to certain painful operations. But this Lord Byrou obstinately refused to do. He urged and with sons siderable fone that the peculiar manner is siderable force that the peculiar manner in which he wore his abundant curls effectuwhich he wore his qualitative the radiomentary horns, and that as he never appeared in public without his boots and trousers, none would ever suspect the existence of his other defects, with the exception of his valet in whom he placed implicit confidence.

The Great Boat Race—A Card from the Harvard Crew.

We have often been tempted by the mis takes and misrepresentations in many of the published accounts of the Oxford and Har vard boat race to unite in a statement for the purpose of correcting the errors. But we have thought that good taste as well as deep have thought that good taste as well as deep judgment prescribed to us a rule of silence We observe that Harper's Monthly Magazine for this mouth contains an article entitled. The University Rowing Match,' the writer of which seems to speak as by our authority. Styling himself the 'Secretary' of the Harvard Four, he professes to put 'put the story in the light in which it is regarded by the actors themselves.' As we do not wish to be thought to have broken our rule of silence we feel obliged to say that that article was not submitted to any of us nor were we consulted at all in the matter. nor were we consulted at all in the matter. We are therefore in no way responsible for the fact that an article on the subject has appeared or for the statements contained therein, as we are not for any statements elsewhere—whether printed or oral—and whether with or without an appearance of authority.

We think we have a right to abstain from We think we have a right to abstain from specifying any errors, for were we to do so we should allow ourselves to be drawn into the very course we have avoided by the mere fact that a writer has without authority seemed to speak for us. We trust and presume that the writer did not intend to give the impression that he spoke in our behalf, and that the sentence from which we set the bears a construction stronger than he behalf, and that the sentence from which we quote, bears a construction stronger than he was aware of.

Finally, we wish to say that we received the best of treatment from the English people, and were fairly beaten in the race. The only member of the crew who does nor sign paper, Mr Simmons, is in Europe, and baye not had time to procure his signs.

Arrival of the H. B. Co.'s Bark Prince of Wales.

The H B Co's bark Prince of Wales, Capt Adamson, arrived in Esquimalt harbor on Sunday night, while the heavy blow from the southeast was at its height. In coming to an anchorage the vessel fouled with H M To an anchorage the vessel folled with H M S Charybdis, lying at anchor, but both ships escaped damage. This is the fourth successful voyage of the Prince of Wales to this port in Capt Adamson's charge. She sailed from Gruvesend on the 31st August, and made the run in 142 days. Capt Adamson has courtefusly placed us under obligation for the following copy of the ship's

MEMORANDA.

August 31st, 1869—The Hudson Bay Company's ship Prince of Wales unmcored from the buoys at Gravesegd and proceeded to sea, bound for Esquimalt, V 1.

October 27th—Orossed the Equator in long 22° 40′ west.

November 8th—Passed the 50th degree of South latitude in the Atlantic.

November 16th—Sighted and passed Diego Ramorez Islands.

November 16th—Signted and passed Diego Ramorez Islands.

November 24th—Passed the 50th degree of South latitude in the Pacific, then 16 days from lat 50° South Atlantic to lat 50° South from lat 50° South Atlantic to lat 50° South in the Pacific. Had light winds and fine weather with smooth water when rounding Cape Horu. Experienced a succession of hard westerly gales from lat 50° to lat 40° South Pacific, atter which got fair winds and fine weather in the South Pacific.

December 22d—Crossed the Equator in long 114° West; thence had very unsteady winds and unsettled weather while in the Tropic of Cancer, meeting no N E trades whatever.

January 22d, 1870-Made Cape Flattery

light.
Jan 23—Arrived in Esquimalt all well after a passage of 142 days.

NAVAL BEARDS .- Referring to the new Admirality beard regulations, the London Globs says :- "A short time since we drew attention to the anomalous position occupied by the Royal Marines with regard to the new not the Koyai analysis with regard to the new Admiralty shaving regulations. Since then the matter has been under consideration, as the following rather vague announcement in Times attests : - An order, which yetterday's Times attests has been anxiously expected by the Royal Marines, has been received at the headquarters of the Chatham division from the quarters of the Chatham division from the Board of Admiralty, respecting the wearing of beards. This order gives permission to the Royal Marioe Light Infantry henceforward to wear beards. There are some regulations:—If beards are worn the mea; must not shave at all, if the whiskers are shaved, the beard must not be worn, but both beard and whiskers must be shaved off; but the moustache is still to be worn. We hope that this is an imperfect summary of the order issued, for if not, it would appear to be left to each individual officer and man to determine whether he shall wear a beard or shave to each individual officer and man to determine whether he shall wear a beard or shave his cheeks and chin. This, we should simagine, can hardly be the intention of the Admiralty, for the only object in issuing the order at all was to prevent the feelings of precise generals from being outraged by the introduction into their gardsons of a number of men with various growths of hair. But if the Times be right we shall in future see on perade at Chatham and in the other places if the Times be right we shall in the other places where the marines are quartered, three varieties of facial hirsute appendages worn by men all dressed alike. There will be the marine who affects the sailor with be the marine who affects the sailor with the land was the sailor with th who, being a soldier, and wishing to look as much like a soldier as possible under the circumstances, will appear with his checks and chin closely shaven, after the manner at the like the control of th of a French recruit." THEATRE ROYAL .- One of the most fortunate 'hits' Carter has made this season was the engagement of Miss Louise Arnot, who appeared has evening as the Duke Aranza in the comedy of 'The Honeymoon.' Miss Arnot's style is very original and her conception of the character, excellent. In her movements she is graceful, and the character lost nothing by the easy (shall we say gentlemanly?) manner in which she played it. Carrie Carter, as Julians, was very good; the transition from the proud, wilful, capricious girl to the obedient, submissive, gentle wife, was beautiful. Miss Cummings, as Volante, Mr Exbinson, as Balthazzar and Jacquey, and Mr Morrison, as Count Montalban, did splendidly. Upon the fall of the curtain Miss Arnot and Mrs Carter were called out and enthusiastically cheered. 'Love among the Roses' was so finely surg and gracefully danced by Miss Arnot that the audience insisted on an encore, and even then appeared sorry that there was no more of it... This the engagement of Miss Louise Arnot, who insisted on an encore, and even then appeared sorry that there was no more of it... This evening Miss Arnot will appear as Don Cossar De Bazan in the comedy of that name, and as Mrs Triotrac in the 'Married Rake.' Soats should be secured to-day.

MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, OF NEW YORK .- The report of a special committee upon the assets, liabili ies and management of this great company has been subagement of this great company has been submitted, from which it appears that for the year 1869 there was a cash dividend of $3,-167,000 to policy-holders. This report is independent of the regular quarterly audit of the accounts of the company, and possesses, therefore, additional yalue. Col Brans, of this city, has been appointed agent for Washington Territory in addition to British Columbia. Columbia.

THE WEATHER .- A Southeaster, terrific in its character and suddenness, sprang up on Sunday evening and continued until about one o'clock yesterday marning, when it suddenly died away. Scores of lendes were prostrated and a few shanties upset, Yesterday a heavy raio, accompanied by great, soft pats of enow and a high wind, prevailed.

TRADES' LICENSES.—Sixty summonses to persons trading without licenses have been issued from the Police Court.

NAVAL WARFARE .- The British Naval Constructor has, says the London Times, "started from the American model, and taking the benefit of the experience gained by the Americans during the war between the North and the South, he has undoubtedby the Americans during the war between the North and the South, he has undoubtedly added in the breatwork type of turret ship many important features and has given the navy a class of turret ship that can go to sea and fight in any weather."

Referring to the above, a San Francisco paper makes the following honest confession:

—"There is no question that our nuvy is weak in aggressive vessels equal to the emergencies of modern warfare. We may have harebour defences and floating batteries, but we have none of the imposing ironclads that belong to the navies of other nations. All the Powers of Europe have numerous war ships of the grandest types, of which our buried up Ironsides was a humble example. We have devoted ourselves to monitor business, and have left undeveloped the important field occupied by such ships as are described above. occupied by such ships as are described above. It is well to know what Great Britain is doing in naval architecture."

SHIPS SPOKEN during the passage of the ship Prince of Wales from London to Esquimalt :- Oct 29, 1869, lat 260 43' S. long 33° 10′ W, the British slip Askalon from Lendon, bound to the Colonies. Now 10, lat 54° S, long 55° 57′ W, the British barque Alexandria from Antwerp, bound to San Francisco, out 81 days. Nov 16, lat 54° 10′ S, long 60° 5′ W, the Dutch barque Gustermals, from Guatermala, bound to Falmouth, out 60 days. Nov 16, off Deigo Ramosez Islands, the American barque Numiah Gibson from San Francisco, bound to Liverpool. Nov 19 lat 58° 10′ S, long 77° 53′ W, passed the American ship Bativiar of New York, laying to in a gale, heading to the westward. Dec 28, lat 8° 40′ N, long 116° W, the American ship Erriesson trom San Francisco, bound to New York, out 19 days. long 33° 10' W, the British slip Askalon

WILLIAMS Ve. WREN .- Rules nisi, calling upon the Judge of the County Court to show cause why he should not try the two cases of Williams vs Wren, the one in replevia and the other in trespass, (which it will be recollected he refused to try at the last sitting of his court on the ground of want of jurisdiction,) were yesterday argued before the Supreme Court and were made absolute in both cases—i. c., the County Court Judge most try them. The Attorney General appeared on behalf of Mr Pemberton, and Mr McCreight, iostructed by Drako, Jackson & Aikman for the plaintiff. The cases grew out of the enforcement of the Pound Law. cause why he should not try the two cases

DEPARTURES .- The steamship Gussie Telfair sailed at 8 o'clock Sunday morning for San Francisco, carrying 29 passengers and sau Francisco, carrying 29 passengers and a full cargo of coal and general merchandise....At 7 o'clock the same morning the California left Brodrick's wharf and proceeded on her voyage to Portland. She carried half-a-dozen passengers, but had saicely the freight. The bark Prince of Wales reports seeing the Telfair running into Neah Bay on Sauday afternoon, to escape the Southeaster.

BURNS' BIRTADAY .- This being the anniversary of the birth of the great Scottish Bard, will be celebrated by the Caledonian Benevolent Association with a festival and soiree at Alhambra Hall. At seven o'clock in the evening the lady and gentlemen guests will sit down to a bountiful repast, from which Haggiss will not be excluded. After justice has been done to the viands, two or three toasts will be drunk and songssung; thenthe tables will be cleared away and dancing will comm-nee and continue until morning. The Committee are sparing no pains to make the evening pass pleasantly and agreeably.

ABOUT TO Move. - The Mormons are said to have had a new revelation, bidding them to gather the Saints and depart from the to gather the Saints and depart from the Plains 7of Utah to the Sandwich Islands, where they can dwell audisturbed by the encroachments of civilization. The Pacific Railroad is making sad inroads upon the Mormon religion, and Brigham Young begins to realize that his authority is passing from him. In no way can he hope to perpetuate the race of Mormons except by a change of habitation. In the Sandwich Islands they might acid their for a season. lands they might again thrive for a season.

LECTURE. - Mr E T Coleman will deliver a lecture before the Mechanics' Institute ou Tuesday evening next. He will take for his the 'Ports and Passes of Poget Sound in connection with the North Pacific Railway.' Mr Coleman passed several months of last year in exploring the mountains bordering on Puget Sound, with a view to discovering a feasible pass for a railway. Hence be may be presumed to speak knowingly upon a subject fraught with so much interest to the inhabitants of this colony.

OMINECA GOLD. - The 60 ounces of Ominega gold brought down by Mr Lindards. of Beedy & Lindardt, was taken to San Francisco for assay. In color it is a beautiful bright orange; in size it ranges from a pio's head to a musk melon seed, and appears to be gennine lead-gold. Its value was about $1750 per ounce.

Two Indians who shipped as sailors on board the bark Prince of Wales, for London, last year, returned on that vessel yesterday They were regarded as immense curiosities i the Old Country and were introduced to the mysteries (and miseries?) of clawhammer coats and white chokers when presented to the Aborigines' Pretection Society.

MISAPPROPRIATING THE PEABODY FUND. The London Standard is publishing a series of lengthy articles to prove that the Pea-body charities are a failure, and the lodging houses are in no respect as comfortable as those built with other funds. The Trustees are held responsible for all the failures, Portice Count - Cornelius Francis was called in the Bolice Court this morning, but did not appear. His personal recognizance for the sum of $100 was estreated. J Welsh, the rogue and vagabond, was also called for sentence, but he had laded away like an ugly dream or a spavined nightmare.

CITY ACCOUNTS .- The report of the auditors of the city accounts, published this morning, shows that the receipts for the morning, shows that the legople for the fiscal year, ending 7th November, 1869, were $10,010 73, and the expenditures $9,637 54, leaving a cash balance on hand of $373 19. Gratifying

THE Sound STEAMER had not arrived up to the hour of our going to press last night

THE BIG BEND EXPRESS .- Mr P . Beid, the Big Bend expressman, will leave to-marrow for that locality. He will be found at the Pacific Telegraph Hotel, Store street, whe're letters and packages may be left.

THE ship Marmion, for Australia, with lumber, sailed out of Sooke harbor on Sunday.

THE wires north and south are down.

TURNING HIS BACK .- The divorce-seeking TURNING HIS BACK.—The divorce-seeking women in Chicago come to court with the queerest reasons why they should be cut loose from the lateful bonds. A young wife of seventeen recently won her case because the chap she married said he had $200,000, when he hadn't a cent. Besides that, he pinched her. One woman, after summing up a long list of indignities suffered at the bands of her husband made a decisive climax by of her husband, made a decisive climax by the assertion that the brute always turned

ART AND MANUFACTURES .- There is per haps in no branch of industry greater scope afforded to the artist's skill than in the deeign and manufacture of Dress Fabrics. A large stock of the newest styles of Dress Materials, comprising some cheap job lots, suitable for the present and the approaching season, together with a general assortment of Dry Goods, received, ex California, today by—A. A. Gilmore, Yales street, near Government, has commenced to self off his entire stock of that branch of this business, as he intends to confine his attention to MERCHANT TAILOR-row. Garments of every description made to order in the most lashionable styles at greatly reduced prices.

WHO SAYS IT? - Everybody says itthat the Blue Post sets the best lunch in the city, from 11 a. m. to four p. m. every-day. Bushell—as his name indicates—be-lieves in good measure, too, which is ano-ther recommendation.

REMEMBER THE FATE OF ABSALON .- Fred Paine, Tonsorial Artist. Shaving 12360ts Hair Cutting 25cts, Shampooing 25cts. That original cheap Shaving Shop stands on the sunny side of Johnson street:

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thir hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

Brouchitts is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectorat in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure

For Fever and Arue, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Romittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Billous Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or massmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Curo, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zhe, not any other inhered or poisonous sections and the containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zhe, not any other inhered or poisonous terms of the curve in the again districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague needleine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical curses effected in obstitute cases, and where other romedles had wholly failed. Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatologalities, will be protected by taking the AGUE GURE dally. For Liver Complaints, arising from topically of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Blious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed. Trepared by Dr. J. C. Aver, & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass, and sold all total the world.
